Can I request my player to be on the same team as another player?

- It is extremely difficult for the PYBA to meet these requests as there are over 400 registered players. The PYBA uses your player information to try to balance house league teams from the start of the season to avoid moving players around. Divisions play on the same days and either at the same time or back to back making rides easier if necessary. One of the best parts of playing team sports is the social aspect of making new friends. While it can be great to play with friends, many of our players describe the memories of also playing against friends.
